

From: U.S. Dept of Labor Employment & Training Administration [PLC.HELP@dol.gov]
Sent: Thursday, February 09, 2006 3:53 PM
To:
Subject: Permanent Online System Account Creation Notification

An account has been created by _____ for you to use in the Department of Labor's Permanent Online System.

Your login information is username: _____

password: _____

For security purposes, please do not share this email with anyone, since it contains your password information. It is important that you commit your login information to memory so that others cannot gain unauthorized access to your account. Please delete this email once you've obtained your login information.

The online application provides you with the tools to help you prepare, manage and process Permanent Employment Certification application(s). To start using the system immediately, go to <http://www.plc.doleta.gov> enter your login information as shown above, then click the 'Login' button.

System Benefits:

This system allows an employer, and agent/attorney to perform several handy activities online, such as:

- Use an online system to prepare an electronic copy of your Permanent Employment Certification application instead of doing so manually.
- Save time by pre-populating your general information into the Permanent Employment Certification applications

Check the status of your case online

- Obtain proof that your application was received in the DOL processing center

Reuse previously prepared labor certification applications

Update your profile information online

Withdrawing labor certification applications that are being drafted

Manage who can prepare applications on our behalf, i.e., establish, activate and deactivate user accounts within your organization

Should you have any questions, please email the helpdesk at PLC.HELP@dol.gov.

Thank you.

Permanent System Administrator