Petitioner Hayden St. John appe

crimes. Respondent

¹ Mr. St. John's reliance on Chowdhury v. INS, 249 F.3d 970 (9th Cir. 2001), is misplaced. There, the defendant was convicted of money laundering; as order requiring Mr. St. John to pay $25,000 to several identified recipients.

“Restitution” is not an arcane legal term; its ordinary meaning is “[a]n act of restoring to the proper owner something taken away, or restoring something to the proper owner.”
