b. Basic Terms Used in This Report:

1. Appeal -- a request to a federal agency asking that it review at a higher administrative level a full denial or partial denial of access to records under the Freedom of Information Act, or any other FOIA determination such as a matter pertaining to fees.
2. Average number -- the number obtained by dividing the sum of a group of numbers by the quantity of numbers in the group. For example, of 3, 7, and 14, the average number is 8.
3. Complex request -- a FOIA request that an agency using multi-track processing places in a slower track based on the volume and/or complexity of records requested.
4. Denial -- an agency decision not to release any part of a record or records in response to a FOIA request because all the information in the requested records is determined by the agency to be exempt under one or more of the FOIA's exemptions, or for some procedural reason (such as because no record is located in response to a FOIA request).
 - a. No Records -- After a thorough search of agency records, no records were found to be responsive to the FOIA request or within the scope of the FOIA request.
 - b. Fee Related -- Record/request was denied because there were fee issues. For example, the requester was not willing to pay assessable FOIA processing fees or the requester had delinquent fees from previous FOIA requests.
 - c. Not an Agency Record -- Documents requested in a FOIA request that are not maintained, or possibly originated, by the DHS or its components.
5. Exemption 3 statute -- a separate federal statute prohibiting the disclosure of a certain type of information and authorizing its withholding under FOIA subsection (b)(3).

6. Expedited processing -- an agency will process a FOIA request on an expedited basis when a requester has shown an exceptional need or urgency for the records which warrants prioritization of his or her request over other requests that were made earlier.
7. FOIA/PA request – Freedom of Information Act/Privacy Act request. A FOIA request is generally a request or access to records concerning a third party, an organization, or a particular topic of interest. A Privacy Act request is a request for records concerning oneself; such requests are also treated as FOIA requests. (All requests for access to records, regardless of which law is cited by the requester, are included in this report.)
8. Glomar response – is when the existence or non-existence of responsive records to a request is neither confirmed nor denied in order to protect law enforcement, privacy, or other appropriate interests.
9. Initial Denial Authority – agency official who is delegated the authority to make release determinations of documents and information contained in documents requested under the FOIA on behalf of the agency.
10. Initial request -- a request to a federal agency for access to records under the Freedom of Information Act.
11. Median number – the middle, not average, number. For example, of 3, 7, and 14, the median number is 7.
12. Multi-track processing – a system in which simple requests requiring relatively minimal review are
13. placed in one processing track and more voluminous and complex requests are placed in one or more tracks. Requests in each track are processed on a first-in/first-out basis. A requester who has an urgent need for records may request expedited processing.
14. Partial release -- an agency decision to disclose a record in part in response to a FOIA request, deleting information determined to be exempt under one or more of the FOIA's exemptions: or, in a multiple record response, a decision to disclose some records in their entireties but to withhold others in whole or in part. This sometimes referred to as a “partial denial” or “partial grant.”
15. Perfect request – a FOIA request for records which adequately describes the records sought, which has been received by the FOIA office of the agency or agency component in possession of the records, and for which there is no remaining question about the payment of applicable fees.
16. Perjury statement – a signed statement executed under the penalty of law, usually associated with a request for the personal records of the requester, attesting that they are the individual who they say they are.
17. Processed request or appeal -- a request or appeal for which an agency has taken a final action on the request or the appeal in all respects.
18. Proper request – a request that fits the definition of a FOIA request: reasonably describes the agency records being sought and cites a willingness to pay assessable fees or justifies the granting of a fee waiver.
19. Reasonably Described – the request is reasonably described if it enables a professional agency employee familiar with the subject area to locate the record with a reasonable amount of effort.
20. Referral – transferring a FOIA request and/or document(s) which are under another agency’s purview to another entity for processing. This also includes redirecting a requester to the appropriate agency instead of referring the request.
21. Release -- an agency decision to disclose all records in full in response to a FOIA request. This sometimes referred to as a “grant.”
22. Simple Request -- a FOIA request that an agency using multi-track processing places in its fastest (nonexpedited) track based on the volume and/or simplicity of records requested.
23. Time limits – the time period in the Freedom of Information Act for an agency to respond to a FOIA request (ordinarily 20 working days from proper receipt of a perfected FOIA request).

- b. Other statistics significant to the Department:

1. Brief description of the Department's response-time ranges:

Some components of the DHS were able to respond to their FOIA/PA requests within the statutory time periods. Median response times for simple requests ranged from 19 to 84 days; complex requests ranged from 5 to 111 days; and expedited requests ranged from 3 to 45 days.

2. Brief description of the Department's release actions:

99.4% Requests received a response ranging from a full release to no records.
 33% Requests receiving a full release.
 40% Request receiving a partial release.
 10.5% Requests that had no responsive records or records were not under DHS control.
 0.6% Requests receiving a full denial

4 of 9 FOIA Exemptions were invoked most often in other than full release responses.

30% Percentage of requests containing Exemption b(7) information.
 25% Percentage of requests containing Exemption b(6) information.
 19% Percentage of requests containing Exemption b(5) information.
 15% Percentage of requests containing Exemption b(2) information.

3. Other narrative statements describing Department efforts to improve timeliness of FOIA responses:

- a. The DHS Privacy Office is exploring the feasibility of implementing a Department-wide enterprise architecture for the processing of FOIA/PA requests. Using today's and tomorrow's technology would provide for standardized processing, increased accountability and accuracy, identification of requests to components for the same documents by the same requester to allow for a coordinated response and streamlined processing, increasing the accuracy of processing completion estimates, tracking requests and making available a status of a request from a DHS website, and real-time FOIA/PA data for reports, budget justification, and workload. The system would provide for electronic scanning or importing data files and storing of unclassified documents on the system. In addition to increasing processing efficiency, it also allows for the transfer of electronic documents to other processors on the system within a component as well as between components to assist in increasing response times and managing the FOIA/PA processing workload.
- b. The Transportation Security Administration closed out all FY 2004 FOIA requests needing a final response by September 30, 2004. There were 7 requests received that did not require a statutorily mandated response before the end of the Fiscal Year. TSA accomplished this as a result of management emphasis and support with additional resources and funding. The TSA FOIA Office hired seven contract FOIA analysts to assist in eliminating the backlog and also authorized overtime for full-time staff. To improve response time each TSA program office designated a FOIA point of contact, which has helped expedite the search and retrieval of responsive records. Many documents responsive to FOIA requests contain Sensitive Security Information and the TSA FOIA program initiated a training program for FOIA specialists to increase their capacity and ability to process SSI documents.
- c. Approximately 10,000 requests, received by the headquarters and over 40 U.S. Citizenship & Immigration Service (CIS) field offices, for genealogy records are currently processed as FOIA requests. The USCIS is proposing to transfer requests for immigrant documents to the Office of Records Services, Information Disclosure Branch, for processing. This will be a fee-for-service program funded by the fees charged and collected. These records were chosen for this program because based on the past history, they contain the information sought after by researchers. The practice for responding will be – before documents are released the subject of the record must be over 100 years old or the requester must provide proof of death. If those two criteria are not met, the Office of Records Services will consult with the FOIA/PA program to determine whether to process the request as a FOIA/PA request. Removing this number of requests from the FOIA/PA program and creating a separate genealogy program dedicated to serve this unique category of requesters would improve service to historical researchers and improve the ability of CIS to respond to requests for other non-historical records.

- d. USCIS is poised to implement a FOIA centralized processing program. The centralization project was proposed in July 2001 and approved June 2002. Post-transfer of USCIS into the Department of Homeland Security, the DHS Privacy Office endorsed the June 2002 proposal. As vacancies become available and are moved to the USCIS National Records Center (NRC), the work will subsequently move and the field office will cease to process FOIA/PA requests. The USCIS FOIA/PA workload will be processed primarily at the NRC. There will be two other smaller FOIA/PA processing offices at USCIS Headquarters, Washington, D.C., and USCIS Burlington, Vermont. Because the FOIA/PA Information Processing System (FIPS) can be accessed from any location, the three offices need not be specialized. However, the NRC, located in Lee's Summit, Missouri, will primarily process alien file requests and requests received by USCIS field offices; the USCIS Burlington, Vermont, location will primarily process personnel-related and contract related requests, and the USCIS Headquarters will process sensitive or high-profile records. Centralizing the workload to three locations will not change the number of requests received or the staff necessary to process the requests; but the expectation is that processing times will be reduced due to processing streamlining, total dedication of FOIA/PA staff to processing, and the ability of the FIPS to electronically shift workload and files, when necessary.
- e. During FY 2004, the U.S. Secret Service completed a triennial review of the FOIA/PA processing staff and identified a loss of 2.5 processing staff years, the concurrent loss of the office FOIA experience and knowledge base, and a consequent decline in resources. As one measure to augment the production capacity of the remaining FOIA/PA processing staff, the Secret Service implemented off-the-shelf imaging and automated redaction software. Upgrading from administrative software to imaging and redaction software should result in reduced response and increased completion rates.
- f. The U.S. Coast Guard has expanded an image-enabled workflow system that scans FOIA/PA requests and responses, and automates the workflow review and release process associated with these functions, from the FOIA office to program offices. The Marine Safety, Security, and Environmental Protection Directorate purchased and distributed scanners to all of its field units in October 2003 and since that time the majority of investigation files have been scanned and stored electronically. Electronic storage has also facilitated the electronic processing and redaction of files. In response to customer requests the "Merchant Vessels of the U.S. Data File" is now updated monthly and available via the internet and on computer disc. Also, the frequently requested "Marine Casualty and Pollution Data" are also made available on the internet.
