U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services and the Department of the Interior's National Park Service Form Partnership to Enhance Meaning and Stature of Naturalization Ceremonies

U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) has developed a partnership with the National Park Service (NPS) to enhance the meaning and stature of naturalization ceremonies. There is an enduring connection between the American people and the national parks, and these historic and often picturesque sites provide a perfect backdrop to naturalization ceremonies. The partnership, in turn, will allow NPS to build connections between new citizens and America's parks. Close to 50 national parks have expressed an interest in hosting naturalization ceremonies

The USCIS/NPS partnership will:

- Match District Offices with National Parks in their jurisdictions that are interested in hosting naturalization ceremonies;
- Support and promote local partnerships already undertaken by District Offices and National Parks; and
- Sponsor a small number of new higher-profile naturalization ceremonies at selected parks that have a link to immigration or civic history.

USCIS will launch a campaign to promote both the partnership and individual naturalization ceremonies at National Parks around the country. The partnership will develop with many citizenship events including special ceremonies focused on Citizenship Day and other national commemorations.

Naturalization ceremonies sponsored by the Office of Citizenship will include keynote speakers from the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of the Interior, USCIS, the National Park Service and other organizations.

Below is a calendar of naturalization ceremonies that have occurred or are being planned for 2006:
