About the Speakers

Cyrus D. Mehta (Discussion Leader) was the Secretary and member of the Executive Committee of the New York City Bar Association (2003-2007). He is also the former Chair (2000-2003) of the Committee on Immigration and Nationality Law of the same Association. He was also a Trustee of the Association's City Bar Justice Center, which organizes attorneys' pro bono activities in New York City (2001-2007). He has recently been appointed to the Board of Directors of Volunteers of Legal Services, Inc. Between 2004 and 2006, Mr. Mehta was the Chairman of the American Immigration Law Foundation (AILF) - an immigration think tank that advances the positive impact of immigration in this country and also conducts litigation on behalf of immigrants. He established for AILF a prestigious annual event in New York City that honors outstanding immigrants in various fields of endeavor, and continues to be active as an emiritus trustee for AILF in New York. He co-authored a report that analyzed parallels in the government's policy toward Japanese Americans following the attack on Pearl Harbor and non-citizens of certain nationalities post-September 11. Mr. Mehta is a frequent speaker at conferences of the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA) and has served on its national committees. In 1997-1998, he was the Chair of AILA's Young Lawyers Division and also won the 1997 Joseph Minsky Young Lawyers Award for outstanding contributions in the immigration field. He is presently the Co-Chair of the AILA-NY Chapter Pro-Bono Committee. Newspapers and television constantly seek Mr. Mehta out for his expert opinions on immigration law and policy. He is regularly quoted in mainstream, ethnic and foreign newspapers. Furthermore, Mr. Mehta speaks, debates and conducts training workshops on various immigration topics under the aegis of non-profits and universities. He is also a featured speaker at immigration seminars of the Practising Law Institute. Mr. Mehta is also the author of several articles that have appeared in professional publications such as Interpreter Releases, Immigration Briefings, Bender's Immigration Bulletin, Immigration Today and AILA's Immigration and Nationality Handbook, as well as countless popular articles that appear on www.ilw.com. Mr. Mehta graduated with a BA degree from St. Xavier's College, Bombay University, and subsequently obtained law degrees from Cambridge University, England (MA in Law), and Columbia Law School, New York (LL.M). He is admitted to the New York bar. In his spare time, Mr. Mehta plays the violin.
